ing for Missing Priends. The New York Morgue was crowded yesterday with men, women, and children. Many would gaze for Lours, as if only to gratify a morbio curiosity. Mr. O'Brien, of the Dea house, says that he has siept but little during the past week, for, right and day, the place has been besieged with those anxious to get bodies admitted or removed. The rush has been so great that even the Warden was forced to leave the tospital, and belp the Morgue attendants. The bodies, while lying on the siabs, are frequen ly drenched with carbolic soid, and a constant spray of Croton water is kept running upon their preasts. The scene at the Deas-house waterday was enough to make the gayest sad. Men with large brawny arms In a court between the Dead-house and the ed, red coffins were piled up like cord woo ! Here were have coffins for children; in ta - cor ner was a blue coffin, while in the shed and Dead-house, square boxes, cracked coffins, and stretch re were lying in all positions. Every two or thre a inu es some one wanted to see the Keeper who had charge of the dead. Among others was a spare woman about 35 years of age. She was in search of her hisyears of age. She was in search of her his-band. Mr. O'Brien, after listening to her de-seription, went to a coffin and wrenched off the Who ever saw such a sight? Toe steuch was sufforating. What the night before was a human being was now a bloated mass of corraption. "Oh, my God!" exclaimed the woman, "my husband; Oh, my —." At this juncture another w man inquired for her son. She could not his body in the Morgoe—was he dead or in the hospital? An attendant swore he knew nothing about the living, he could not keep track of the dead, "Go through the wards," said be, "and may be you can dod him." "lio through the

More people came; some wept, others swore. The woman bist spoken of wrong her hands and paced up and down the court in despair. At la-t she went up to the coffin, and in a plea 1ing voice the said:-Heavets above me, what shall I do? God of mercy, I want him buried in Calvary" (she was a Catholic, and could not bear the thought of having her husband buried in unconsecrated "What is a going to become of me? Lest night, poor John, poor John, you was at work; why did you die before you bid me goodbye? My hasband, since last night here you are. M. God, to think you have come to this."

Here she took hold of the green and puried hand of her hasband, shook it, and broke into a new paroxysm of grief.

"Ou," said she, "you used to be called the handsomest man in New York. At how—oh rocak to me only one word, John, one word!

The astendants of the dead house handled the bodies with as Bale unconcern as they would so many beeves. Yesterday morning the cottins were piled up in the court ten feet high. At moon they were sent on to Ward's Island for interment. In the dead house shed were a number of bodies so far decomposed that the mayfairly consumed them. They resembled heaps of moving flax-eed more than human boulet. Some of the dead were packed in ica. but for the most part they were laid out in rough wooden coffins. It was a strange sight from the threshold of the Dead house. On one side, death and purrefaction; on the other, beautiful groupes and waving elms.

In the hospital are a number of patients suffering from sun-stroke, and of the 95 cases received since the 14th of July, only nine have be n lost. Mr. Brennan, the Warden, is the presiding genius, and he is a great lavorite with the patients because he is so furny. One thing is critain, he is obliging to visitors. The hospital is well ventilated, and everything is "as neat as a pin." The Warden save that the p incipal reason they are so success'ul with their patients is because they pay great attention to clean.iness and ventilation. Much has been said touching the cause of sun-troke. Everybody has a favorite remedy, and every one thinks he will be the last to die. Cabbage leaves are in great demand since the beatel term commenced. Those who have no cabbage leaves for their hats will find much benefit from using wet paper. It is generally acknowledge I that when spirituous liquors are used in large quant ties sun-stroke is note frequent. When the yellow fever prevails, almost the first victims are the dissi

"LIGHT AT LAST."

The Strike at the Gas Works-The Trustees Accede to the Demand of the Workmen and they Resume Operations.

Considerable aunoyance has been occasioned to our citizens in consequence of the strike for higher wages, by the employ es of the Gas Works. The city last night presented the ap-pearance it did some thirty years ago, when epch a thing as gas was unknown and it was with extreme difficulty that pede trians could navigate along the thoroughters. Many who had occasion to be abroad provided themselves with lanterus. All the shops closed at an early hour, they finding too few customers to warrant them in expending the amount necessary for the purchase of material with which to display their wares.

As a consequence of the strike, the candle and oil dealers reaped a barvest, and we doubt whether a "dip" or a pint of coal oil could be purchased in any store in the city.
All apprehension of any further difficulty now is at an end, for the Board of Trustees of the Gas Works have acceded to the demands of the workmen, and they have resumed operations. Visterday we chronicled the fact that the reoresentatives of the Board had refused to yield to the workmen, but since our last issue they held a meeting, at which the subject was fully discussed, and they decided for the sake of the city to give way.

This morning the Board visited the works and stated the conclusion which had been arrived at, viz:-to give the advance of 25 per cent .. and the employees immediately re-commenced their labors of lighting up the lurnaces.

Crief Engineer Brown watted upon us this morning, and stated that there would be gas on hand to-night, but advises our citizens to use it sparingly.

A nonceable exception to the almost universal gloom which overcast the city last night, was the "inquirer Bu iding," which was lighted by means of an automatic ass generator placed in the front office. The jets were large and brilliant, and cast a five reflection on the build-ings opposite and affracted the attention of many reople who stopped to examine the appa-

FROM WASHINGTON THIS P. M. Special Despatch to The Evening Telegraph.

Sexator Sawyer, of South Carolina. Washington, July 18 .- A statement has been published impugning the loyalty of Hon. Frederick A. Sawyer, Senator elect from South Carolina. There is the authority of General Bennett, who was in command of Charleston following the surrender of that city, for saying the statement is wholly destitute of truth, and that Mr. Sawyer left the Rebels during the war to escape conscription, and gave unmistakable evidence of his thorough sympathy with the Union cause.

FORTIETH CONGRESS-SECOND SESSION.

Semate. WASHINGTON, July 18 .- Mr. Tipton introduced a bul granting lands to ald in the construction of a ratiroad from Nebraska city to intersect the Union Pacide Ballroad. Referred to the Com-mittee on the Pacific Railroad.

Mr. Nye called up the joint resolution for the restoration of Commander Hughes, U. S. Navy, to the active list, which was passed. Mr. Cattell reported from the Committee on Firmuce a recommendation for the indefinite postpovement of the resolution of the Constitutional Conventions of Georgia and Mississippi

Mr. Washourne (111.) suggested that Mr. Ela who had been recently investigating irregulari ties in connection with the Patent Office print ing, should make a statement explanatory of the resolution, or should have his read.

The report was read, embracing facts in rela-tion to the Patent Office printing and the stationery contract for the Interior Department. Mr. Washburne (III.) in view of the statement in the report, asked unantmous consent to offer the following resolution:-

Whereas, The late Commissioner of Patents alleges that he had the approval of the Secretary of the Interior in relation to the expenditure referred to in the report of the Committee on Printing.

LATER FROM WASHINGTON. The President's Message.

Despaich to the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, July 17 .- The President this afternoon sent a message to the two Houses of Congress, proposing amendments to the Constitution. He commences by saying:-

"Experience has fully demonstrated the wisdom of the framers of the Federal Constitution under all the circumstances. The result of their labors was as near an approxi mation to perfection as was compatible with the fallibility of man.

"Such being the estimation in which the Constitution is and has ever been held by our countrymen, it is not surprising that any proposition for its alteration or amendment should be received with reluctance and distrust Whilst this sentiment deserves commendation and encouragement as a useful preventive of unnecessary attempts to change its provisions, it must be conceded that time has developed imperfections and omissions in the Constitution, the reformation of which has been demanded by the best interests of the country."

The first defect he alludes to is in that clause of the Constitution which provides for the election of President and Vice-President through electors, and not by a direct vote of the people, and quotes President's Jackson's recommendation on the subject at considerable

Boston, July 18 .- Obed Jones, of Canton, has been found murdered, and his mother-in. law, a Mrs. Maddern, and the wife of the deceased have been arrested for the crime. He was shot with a pistol, and the discharged weapon was left by his side to give the impression that he had committed suicide. A prosecution was pending against Mrs. Maddern for adultery, in which Jones was to be a prominent witness, and to escape conviction it is believed she committed the murder. There was no evidence against the arrested parties until this morning, when the mother-in-law was overheard to say to Jones' wife, who was confined in the cell with her, that she committed the crime, but they would get out of it if they stuck to the lie they first told.

heavy for any party to carry."

—The "conservative" citizens of Warrensburg, Mo., hearing that a white man of that vicinity had mundred a black waman, brought the fellow into town to suffer indignities. While he was being persecuted, a large crowd around him hooting yelling, etc., a gentleman present stepped out and asked him:—"What are your pilities, my friend?" "I am a Democrat, have always been a Democrat, and always expect to be a Democrat." The hooting immediately subsided.

-The Washington correspondent of the Cin-bati Commercial writes:—"A staff officer of General Longstreet, now in Washington, tells them that General Grant will poll the entire vote of the Confederate Soldiery in Texas, and that with Chase as the Democratic candidate, five-six hs of the same would stay at home."
When I inquire the reason of this, the aidedecemp said: "Our boys have faith in Grant. He is a 'square' antagonist. We won't get so many promises out of him, but more chance. We don't know so much about these politicians."

The New York Express says:—"A parly of Southern delegates to the Convention, in company with detectives, 'did' the slums of the city Monday night. They saw enough of the mysteries and miseries of the metropolis to satisfy their curiosity, until the meeting of another convention at least." They also saw where the Democratic majorities come from.
